DEDICATION

This yearbook is dedicated not to a person or persons but to an idea which, when put into full scale development in I945, resulted in a singularly successful program in building international understanding.

The Euclid Senior High School students, having benefited from the unique fruits of this program for the past two years, in the persons of Mr. Peter Badham and Mr. Clifford Owen, appreciate the fact that the exchange teachers are really "ambassadors of good will without portfolio."

The teachers exchange program bases itself on the idea that the key station of teachers in every community furnishes varied opportunities for advancing international understanding and cooperation. These teachers are given the opportunity, not only to become better teachers, but also to become better citizens of their own respective countries and better citizens of the world.

Therefore it is with great pride and humility that we, the EUCLIDIAN staff of 1953, dedicate this book to the International Teachers Exchange Program and to the teachers throughout the world who are participating in this program. Theirs has been and is "a monumental contribution to understanding and to world peace."

FACULTY...

Preach with conviction and teach with integrity. -President Eisenhower

All I can offer you is blood, toil, tears, and sweat.
-Prime Minister Churchill

W. G. FORDYCE

The people of Euclid have indicated their confidence in the American public school by the generosity of their support for these schools. Our high school students are particularly fortunate in having one of the most beautiful school buildings in the country. It is the hope of the Board of Education and of your parents that you have taken full advantage of these facilities and of the contacts with a group of well-trained, stimulating teachers.

Your yearbook is a record of your days in this school. We hope they were happy ones. As you leave the school, you assume to a greater degree the obligations of citizenship. The test of your educational experience will be in what kind of citizen you become and how fully you support the American ideals which have made your education possible. The Board of Education expresses its congratulations and best wishes for your future.

W. G. FORDYCE,Superintendent.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

During its short life Euclid High School has been privileged to graduate many fine young men and women. This annual well illustrates the opportunities for all to live and learn in an atmosphere which contributes to a wellrounded life.

We believe, at Euclid High, that students should have the opportunity to live in a democratic atmosphere. This opportunity to participate has helped our students to better assume adult responsibilities after high school graduation.

The publication of this yearbook with all the responsibilities which accompany it is evidence of the merit and the ability of our student body. May the lives of all who attend here be fruitful and make worthwhile contributions to an enlightened and better world.

CLIFFORD G. OWENS, Principal.

During these critical war years American youth has been brought face to face with several very serious challenges. Many of our young people have been forced to decide whether to enter combat service or to assist with industry, or to continue their education. The decision will never be an easy one. American youth, always highly patriotic, understands what it means to maintain the American way of life at whatever cost is necessary.

Your teachers and friends have confidence that you will continue your preparation and thus work for a better world.

Best wishes.
WALTER SCHWEGLER.

As mediators of stu-dent-faculty relations and advisors to both students and faculty, our Deans, Mr. Meryle Baumer and Mrs. Harriet Sheets, hold two of the most vital positions in our school government.

The constantly improving transportation facilities, plus more and better means of communication, have broug'at the present generation of Americans into a community of nations in which the United States must play the part of a neighbor and a leader. Now as never before, it behooves Americans to make themselves understood by the other peoples of the world. It further behooves them to make every effort to understand the millions of persons in the world who express themselves in languages which are foreign to Americans.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

The general ohjective of the Commercial course is to prepare the student to enter the business world immediately after graduation. The students in the "Co-op" deparement are given a minimum of fifteen hours a week of actual work experience ar the prevailing wage rate. This program offers to the students the opportunity of "learning by do. ing.'

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

A knowledge of the various sciences is extremely useful as well as being rewarding. The general objective of the study of science is to aid the student to acquire, classify, and select facts and to draw logical conclusions. The program of scientific study offered at Euclid is a varied one which offers such courses as Physics, Horticulture, Biology, and Chemistry.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Our Mathematics department offers: Shop Mathematics. Algebra, Plain and Solid Geometry, and Trigonometry, All of the courses in mathematics except shop math are a necessity for the student entering a career of engineering or science. These math courses are sufficient for all the skilled trades in and out of industry as well as for a foundation for further mathematics in higher education.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT

Generally speaking, the Art and Industrial Arts courses are designed as nearly as possible to provide instruction and experience basic to the vocations and avocations represented in our school, shops, and craft rooms

The Industrial Arts subjects as set up are not intendcd to prepare anyone for a specific job such as running a drill press or becoming a specialist in repairing automobile carburetors of a certain make. The instructors try to give a broad background in the subject, to develop basic skills peculiar to the field, and to teach cooperation within the group.

The Music department offers the student interested in music an opportunity to participate in band, orchestra, or choir. There is an opportunity for all, in both popular and classical music. Naturally, a desire to play or sing is stimulated, and it is hoped an understanding and appreciation of the finer type of music is developed.

Jan Thompkins

RT DEPARTMENT

The art course is constructed to provide a maximum of experience in all phases of art as it applies to everyday life. This covers dainting, drawing, crafts, appreciation, consumer education, ceramics, metalwork, sculpture, commercial art, and others. The emphasis is on practical work, although anyone who cares to use art as a career will find that this course will prepare him for art school or college art courses.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

HOME ARTS DEPARTMENT

Marion Hoddick

Edith Lemon

Jessic Howe

The general aims of the Home Arts course are: (1) To lead the student to realize some of her responsibilities as a member of a democratic home and community; (2) To help the student analyze and solve her personal problems as to clothing, food, and social relationships.

The Home Arts Department offers courses which prepare a girl for the greatest career of her life-marriage.

SENIORS...

SENIORS..

The Seniors of Euclid Senior High School, with three valuable years of preparation behind them, are now ready to take their respective places in the community.

This class has always held high the principles and standards of Euclid Senior High School and will be long remembered for its many achievements.

Now that commencement is drawing near, the Seniors will march proudly across the stage and receive their diplomas. This will be a happy day but tinged with sorrow. They leave the past with regret but face the future with great expectations.

SENIORS...

The bottom halt of the upper crust?

W'e, the senior Class of 1953 , remember the Senior Play, those wild parties, Euclid's basketball team (and the self-appointed bugler at Cleveland Heights), leav ing asembly first, memorizing Shakespeare, and finally we remember teachers and underclassmen who made our senior year so beetic.

JUNIORS . . .

Honors go to our outstanding Junior Class for its scholastic achievements and for its leadership and participation in school activities. The officers, under the guidance of the class advisors, were the helping hands that led the Juniors through a year of success and fun.

The Class of ' 5 i, with the success that it has already gained, is looking forward to another year of all around achievement.

SOPHOMORES . . .

The difficulties of adjusting to a new school, new surrounding, and making new acquaintances confronted the class of ' 55 just as it does any sophomore class. These obstacles were soon forgotten, however, as the first few weeks of confusion and excitement died away.

The Sophomore Class has really displayed a keen interest in class affairs and the numerous school activities. We are certain that the Sophomore Class with the initiative that they have already shown can be expected to do great things in the future.

THE JINIOR PIAY

The delightful comedy, "Our Miss Brooks," was presented in the auditorium November 2Ist and 22nd, by the Junior Class. The play was a huge success, and provided many laughs and an excellent evening's entertainment for those people who saw it.

We offer a vote of thanks to Mr. Leonard Robuck. who directed the play, for the way he tirelessly gave of his time to work with the cast. His steadying influence did much to eliminate those "opening night jitters."
"Our Miss Brooks" was based on the radio and TV show by the same name, starring Eve Arden, and depicted Miss Brooks, a high school English teacher, directing a school play of her own. A romance was added between Miss Brooks and Hugo Longacre, the basketball coach, and when the curtain was finally rung down on the last performance. most people agreed that this was one of the finest Junior Plays ever seen at Euclid.

Mary Chases's delighttul comedy, Harte s. provided the Senior play cast with many enjoyable afternoons and evenings of rehearsal, and the large crowd who came to see the play, with an evening's entertainment.

Duane Mansberger as Elwood Dowd-the lighrhearted gentleman who is befriended by the six-foot white rabbit, Harvey-and Myra Jerkis as his sister, Veta Louise-who tries in vain to destroy the supposedly mythical rabbitonly to find herselt coming under Harvey's influencekept the play moving swiftly and smoothly

The production of Harres was a large undertaking. but the Seniors under Mr. Bennett's direction carried it through to success.

N. F. L.

Once again the National Forensic League can look back with sincere pride on its accomplishments of the year. It has been a year of success and failure. happiness and despair. This year the club was increased from thirty members of last year to approximately seventy-five members.

The Prince of Peace contest started the speech activiry in November. Ey erience once again proved valuable as Bill Former, Marcia Kuchera, Joanne Lacey. Mary Grace Derbaum, and Roger Pace won in the first set of contests. In the next contest Roger Pae was victorious and went on to win third place in the district.

The E. H. S. debate team did very well in their first debate at Tallmadge, Ohio. The first individual events contest was at St. Joseph. Following this were contests at Ravenna, Cathedral Latin, Niles, and Cuyahoga Falls. Euclid contestants made an excellent showing in all of these contests. The high point of the year was reached on February 2I when Euclid held its second all-events tournament. This was even bigger and better than last year's contest.

One of the highlights of the year was that coach Mr. Leonard Robuck, served as a member of the northern Ohio district committee of N. F. L.

Next year, judging from the fine showing this year, Euclid should occupy one of the top positions in N. F. L. ranking in the nation.

The Student Council is one of the most important organizations in our school It was the Student Council that sponsored dances after our games, refurnistred the Recreation Room, presented our first annual homecoming. and gave us assemblies such as the one during which Mr. Clifford Owen gave his interpretations of American ways.

The Student Council served well as the link between the faculty and students which brought both harmony and efficiency to our school government.

STLDENT COUNCIL EXECUTIVE BOARD
The executse board of Euclid High School, presided wer by the Student Councll president, is composed of the leaders of the main tunctions of the Student Councal Assembly Charman. Hall Guard Supervisor. Honor Study Hall Head. Captain of the School Guides. Concession Chairman. Cateteria Supervisor and Recreation Room Supersisor. These people decide important issues to be brought betore the councll and the various projects which they desire the councl to undertake.

One of the most important robs of the Student Counat is to manage concessons at all important athletic events. This year the foh tell into the hands of Tim Browning and his assistants, Bill Fortner, Jan Eiber, and LeRoy Yeary.

National Honor Society

One of the most coveted honors that a high school may bestow upon one of its srudents is the honor of being inducted into the National Honor Sociery. A membership in the National Honor Society is cherished throughout one's entire life, whether he maly choose to go to college or orherwise.

Any student who has maintained a scholastic average of eighty-five percent or betrer, is eligible for membership. The students are chosen from the Junior and Senior classes according to the standards of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. They are selected on a point basis by each member of the faculty and the present members of the Society.

Eich ye:rr in January, the induction ceremony takes place during an all-school assembly. No student knows who has been selected for initiation until the names are read in the assembly.

Our chapter of the National Honor Society, led by Mr. Stanley Whiteside, is one of the 3,500 in the United States today. It is not a service club, although most of its members are key persons in other service clubs. They have social activities and each year find a means of earning money to defray the cost of pins and other expenses.

Remember the old song. "For he's a jolly good fellow"? Well, when referring to the Hi-Y', we must say "for they're all jolly good fellows."

The Hi-Y is an organization for boys with the desire to create an attitude which promotes Christian living. Their many activities offer not only service to the student body but also pleasure to the members.

Because of the large number of boys participating in the Hi-Y activities, the organization is divided into four chapters, the Knights, Squires, Nobles, and Regents, each having its own individual projects and activities.

The transference of knowledge from one generation to another is a job that will always be necessary-there will always be children to teach!

The purpose of the F. T. A. Club is the uniting of students who have a common goalthat of being ene of the Future Teachers of America.

Ad Club

The Ad Club is very important to the success of the athletic program here ar Euclid High. Without it the sports activities would not run as smoothly as they do. It is the responsibility of the Ad Club to sell the tickers to such sports events as foorball games, basketball games, and wrestling meets.

MAJORETTE (LUIs

Three $\mathbf{t o}$ one odds may seem rather good at lirst glance, but we the thirty girls in the Majorette Club who are vying for the ten varsity majorette positions the odds begin to appear quite high comes the month of May and the linal selection of the next year's candidates.

Regardless of whether or not they are one of the lucky ten, the girls appreciate the various skills such as twirls, dances, and marches which they have learned, and the great deal of fun and enjoyment they have had during the year as a member of the Majorette Club.

THE MEGAPHONE CLUB - THE CHEERLEADERS
The Megaphone Club is composed of thirty students who work toward a common goal-that of becoming a cheerleader. These girls are trained during regular meetings by the varsity cheerleaders, with the assistance of Mr. Mize. They are taught acrobatics, hand and leg movements, facial expression, and coordination.

Unfortunately, all members cannot become cheerleaders, but it is a high honor for those who do. Our cheerleaders, chosen for their exuberance and school spirit, are the "Zip! Bang!" of the school.

For the limelight they enjoyed a couple of times a week, they spent many hours practicing so they could arrive at near perfection in the cheers which they led. With the help of their advisor, Mr. Edmund Mize, they also planned and presented the pep sessions held for the student body.

With everlasting pep and enthusiasm, our cheerleaders followed the football and basketball teams wherevet they went. Whether the team was victorious or lost a heart-breaking game, whether few or multitudes of students were in attendance, they proceeded to cheer and hoped that they might add that necessary spark to the team.

Ranking high in the state wrestling tournament for the third year in a row, Coach Clarence Eckert's grapplers took second as five boys placed in the state.

Winning state titles at 127 and 165 lbs . respectively were co-captains Manuel Paz and Ron Phillips. Jim Kalin, out for a good part of the season with a spine injury, took second place at 138 lbs. Dick Brennan notched a third in the heavyweight class, and previously unheralded Don Joranko took fourth in the 112 lb . division.

In regular season matches, the Panther varsity won 6 and dropped 2. The "B" team notched one victory against one loss, defeating Maple Heights and losing to University School.

Cuyahoga Falls was the "Blue ad Gold's" first victim, falling 34-8. In the second match of the year, the Panthers downed a tough John Marshall squad, 20-18. Next came tr o easy wins over West and Lakewood.

With three regulars out with injuries, Euclid lost 22-18 to powerful West Tech. Bouncing back in Euclid fashion, the Panthers knocked off John Adams and John Hay.

In an attempt to snare a Greater Cleveland Conference tie, Euclid suffered a heartbreaking loss to Shaker, 17-15.

Although the nucleus of this year's squad is graduating, other capable grapplers have received added experience and instruction and will be ready to keep Euclid a power in scholastic wrestling.

Co-captains of the 1953 Blue and Gold" mat team were 128 lb Manuel "Toots" Pas and $16,5 \mathrm{lb}$. Ron Phillips. Completing the regular seatson undefeated, both Manuel and Ron went on to win the state championship in their respertive divisions. "Toots" was the srate (hamp at 120 ) lbs. last year, and $R$ on tox $k$ a second in the 169 lb class.

REVIEW

Although dropping the championship game of the district tournament, the Panthers extended their record to 20 wins as against three setbacks.

Led by Captain Frank Nimmo, the "Blue and Gold" cagers swept by Conneaut 63-49, Geneva 64-60, and East High 69-54, to reach the final.

The championship game matched the Panthers against a powerful East Tech quintet, unbeaten in seventeen encounters. After giving the Scarabs a battle all the way, the Panthers were downed 58-52.

Frank Nimmo was elected to the alltourney first team and received the most valuable player award. Phil Borovic was nominated to the all-tourney second team.

A whistle blowing-the familiar words "line up"-and "What happened to squad three?"-are all part of the everyday work of the Girls' Leaders Club.

One of the high honors that may come to a girl is to be selected for membership in the G. L. C. Members are selected on the basis of leadership, s.holarship, and dependability.

The job of the leaders is to aid the physical education teachers by refereeing games, caring for equipment, and demonstrating proper techniques.

Through help from Miss Gill, and through continuous practice, the girls become skilled and capable leaders.

A CAPELLA CHOIR

W'ithout a song, a nation, a scherol, or an individual is missing an opportunity to make the days happier, friends friendlier, the sun shinier.

An organization of which the student body of Euclid High School may be justly proud is the one hundred woice A Capellal Choir under the direction of Miss Jan Tompkins.

This year our choir gave its annual Christmas Prongram, sang at Tapen and the Terminal Tower, and was host to the Lake Erie League Choirs in their annual festival, at which Mr. Evans of Lakewood and our own Miss Tompkins directed a mass chorus of seven hundred voices.

GIRLS ENSEMBLE

The Girls' Ensemble consists of nine girls of outstanding ability chosen from the choir. The ensemble enters the Greater Cleveland contest every year and appears in many concerts.

GIRLS' QUARTET

Our Beauty Shop Quartet is composed of three seniors and one sophomore. They have sung at various community events, assemblies, and in the big show.

Sally Carroll, Ruby Ann Friedel, Judith Dinwoodie, Diane Birkic.

MADRIGALS

The Madrigals consists of twelve students selected from the various choirs in the school. This group is the nucleus of all of the choirs.

THE ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra of Euclid Senior High School holds true to that familiar saying: "Music Hath Charm."

Although this group is small it brings a great deal of enjoyment to the student body as well as to the Euclid community.

THE MARCHING BAND

Fanfare, please! W'e want to salute the Euclid High scherl Marching Band under the direction of Mr. Dale Harper. The Marching Band, led by the ten strutting majorettes, performed their intricate drills at our foorball games as well as in the Columbus Day parade, the Press Christmas parade, and the Memorial Dily parade.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

Each year the Music Department of Euclid High stages an annual Christmas Concert, and this past year's was certainly one of the finest ever given. The opening of the program by the Euclid High Orchestra playing a Christmas Overture was followed by the Christmas Pageant, presented by the junior and senior choirs. As always, the beautiful candlelight-procession was an impressive part of the program.

EDITOR AND ASSOCIATE EDITORS

No one need relate to you a long list of efforts and achievements on the part of the editors. for is not this yearbook adequate proof of the outstanding work of these three individuals?

Connie Bates, Editor-in-Chief, had the sole responsibility of the success of failure of this year's ELCLIDIAN.

Dawn Bouse. Associate Editor, was responsible for all the written matter throughout the yearbook.

Sue Spangler, Associate Editor, had in her charge the selection and placement of pictures.

ART EDITORS AND CLASS EDITORS

Are fditor Ron Joranko, and his assistant, Jeanne Powell, have one of the most important jobs on the Euclidian staff-that of designing the cover for our yearbork and assisting in deciding the page layouts for the Euclidian.

EUCLIDIAN EDITORIAL STAFF

The Euclidian Editorial Staff, under the supervision of the Euclidian sponsors, Mr. Angene and Mr. Wiley, and student editor, Connie Bates, is subdivided into several sections with each section playing an extremely important role in the production of an outstanding yearbook. The students of this staff work unceasingly, searching for and organizing new ideas concerning smart cover designs, interesting picture arrangements, and the best selection of pictures.

The student body owes a debt of gratitude to these people, both student and teachers, who gave so freely of their time and effort to provide Euclid Senior High School students with a yearbook they could proudly treasure in the years to come.

The Euclidian Business Staff has the task of raising $\mathbf{S , 4}, 500$ each year. They do this through advertising, publication movies, dances, and student subscriptions.

Our Yearbook could not be a success without the combined efforts and achievements of all the members of the business staff.

EUCLIDIAN BUSINESS  MANAGERS

There are three major officers on the Euclidian Business Staff.

The duty of Florence Elrick, business manager of the Euclidian, was to choose the business staff and to assist them in every possible way.

The circulation manager, Joanne Lacey, was in charge of student subscriptions.

Carol Cutler, the advertising manager. scheduled students to sell advertising.

These three individuals worked together to produce the best yearbook possible.

EUCLIDIAN ADVISORS

Mr. Angene, Mr. Wiley, and Mr. Bennett combined their efforts to the making of a bigger and better yearbook for 1953. Each did a great deal to aid the editors and business managers with their various problems.

THE INTERNATIONAL QUILL AND SCROLL

It is the aim of every aspiring high school journalist to become a member of the International Quill and Scroll. It offers to all those who have a valid interest in writing, the chance to be recognized. Nothing in one's high school career can be as rewarding to a person than to be accepted into an organization so widely known, and so widely accepted. No real duties are connected with the organization since it is purely honorary. The pin is a quill under which is a scroll. On it is printed the words Quill and Scroll and the initials IHSHSJ, the initials meaning Internatonal Honor Society for High School Journalists. To belong to this organization, a person must have made a significant contribution to one of his high school publications and have a high scholastic average; he must also be recommended by his advisor and the national secretary. Quill and Scroll is to a high school journalist what a degree is to a college senior-a memorable and significant achievement.

SOCIAL...

Why should we break up our snug and pleasant party? -John B. Buckstone

The only way to have a friend is to be one.

Homecoming Queen

Keigning over Euclid High's first Annual Homecoming was Pat Sullivan. Pat was chosen queen by the five winter sports teams. She was presented with flowers and a locket as a remembrance of the occasion. Her reign, though short, highlighted Euclid's 1952 social season.

Homecoming Queen's Attendants

Connie Bates, the pleasing little editor of the Euclidian, was chosen one of the Senior Homecoming Attendants.

Carolyn Mosall, one of the most popular Juniors at Euclid, was chosen as the person in her class to be a Homecoming Attendant.

Gloria DeNeower, Euclid's popular head majorette, was the only mid-year Senior to be chosen as a Homecoming Attendant.

Nancy Smith, the cute sophomore, was chosen by the winter sports teams to represent her class in the Homecoming Parade as a Homecoming Attendant.

Homecoming

As early as June, 1952, plans were being made tor the first annual "homecoming" of Euclid Senior High. Some said it could never be done, but finally on October 10, 1952, the hopes and dreams of many students became a reality.

The night got off to a tremendous start at 7:00 when there was a huge parade, led by the band with the majorettes. The cars with the queens followed. After them came nine floats representing the different school organizations. There was a great deal of hard work done on all the floats and they were truly a magnificent sight. When the parade arrived at the school there was a large bonfire, at which the cheerleulers led the crowd in cheers and songs.

HI-Y - FRIENDSHIP FLOAT
Combining their efforts, the $\mathrm{Hi}-\mathrm{Y}$ and Friendship Clubs built a tloas that was accorded by all to be the most beautitul in the Homecomine Parade.
P.A. CLUB FlOAT
'She 'll Be Comin' Round the Mountain When She Comes!" The mont unique floas in the parade was the one built by the P.A. Club. It depisted a mountan soll and added a pay touch to the event.

Following the presentation of the queens to a capacity crowd, the game with Shaw commenced. During the half the foats paraded around the track while a select committee decided on the one that would receive the "Best Float Trophy." For their float which represented a big bird cage with the Shaw Cardinals imprisoned within the bars, the cheerleaders and the majorettes were awarded the trophy. Excellent band demonstrations were provided by both schools.

Although the final score of the game favored Shaw, 13-7, the night was a success in the eyes of all Euclidites. A huge dance, sponsored by the Euclidian, furnished the grand finale to an eventful evening which we hope will live long in the traditions of Euclid Senior High School.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Resplendent in new uniforms, that were purchased by the hard working cheerleeders with the aid of a gift from the Student Council, this year's cheerleaders seemed sure whe rated as one of the top squads in our district.

RESERVE CHEERLEADERS

Following their Junior Varsity team and cheering them (on to victory is the duty of our Reserve Cheerleaders. Holly Steinfurth, the captan, headed the finest squad yet wo inerokluced to baskethall enthasiasts.

Assembly-Jim Archer
Early in the year, Jim Archer came as a guest and performed on our stage. His tricks with the bow and arrow were amazing to all. With the use of a very nervous stagehand, Pat Strewsbury, Mr. Archer revived the story of W'illiam Tell, using a few of his own teats.

RECREATYON ROOM OPENING;
One of the highlights of the social vear was the opening of the Student Councal Recreatoon Room. It was one of the accomplishments of a busy year of Student Council work

JOAN YARBROUGH
Lovely Miss Joan Yarbrough was chosen by the spring sports' teams to be Euclid's first spring sports' queen. Her reign was another highlight in 1953's whirl of activities.

JOANNE BAUER

With her winning ways and her constant vivacity-charming, likeable Joanne Bauer was chosen by the teams to be a Senior Attendent.

CONNIE CLAMPITT

Connie Clampitt also was chosen for this honor. Being very well-liked, she seemed a natural choice to attend the queen of the spring sports.

JOANNE LACEY

The golf, tennis, track, and baseball teams all agreed that friendly and attractive Joanne Lacey should be the Junior class' contribution to the royal family of spring sports.

MARCIA CHRISTOPHER

Marcia Christopher, with her warmth and friendly ways making her a logical choice to be a member of Euclid's royal family, was given the honor of representing her class at the spring sports' dance.

Typifying today's miracles of engineering are the mechanical giants that move hillsides, build dams and lay turnpikes at unbelievable speeds.
Oil hydraulic systems provide the muscles for lifting and controlling these massive loads.
HYDRECO supplies the pumps, valves and cylinders for these hydraulic control systems.
